A New Novel that has "Caught On"

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

The tremendous interest in the sailing of Admiral Evans' fleet has given this book a special impetus. It is the story of a Japanese-American War, in which two powerful fleets vanish completely, two monarchs disappear, and other events occur with bewildering rapidity. It caused so much discussion as a serial that every one wants to read the book. The first edition has practically vanished. If you want a good, live seller, hurry your order for a part of the second edition.

Women and Other Women

By HILDEGARDE HAWTHORNE

Entertaining discussions of literary women, their work and the characters they have created. Miss Hawthorne presents her criticism in a most attractive form. Her views are alive, appealing and show a keen appreciation of feminine traits, as well as a few masculine ones. $1.20 net, by mail, $1.30.

and on February 15th

Plans for a National Theatre

By WILLIAM ARCHER and GRANVILLE BARKER

A scheme for an endowed theatre in America which will provide comparatively inexpensive entertainments, and yet never present any but plays of a high order. The authors, both noted in the sphere of practical theatrical management, have designed careful working-plans and estimates which show conclusively such an enterprise to be not only possible, but successful from a commercial standpoint. An epoch-making book in American stage history. $2.50 net, by mail, $2.70.

and a new volume of THE SHAKESPEARE CLASSICS

Brooke's Poem of "Romeus and Juliet"

The original of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." As edited by P. A. Daniel, modernized and re-edited by J. J. Munro. With a frontispiece. Boards, $1.00 net, by mail, $1.10. Persian leather, $1.60 net, by mail, $1.70. Three-quarter vellum large sized page. $1.70 net, by mail, $1.85.

A New De Morgan Novel

JUST READY

SOMEHOW GOOD

By WILLIAM DE MORGAN

— Author of "Joseph Vance," and "Alice-for Short" —

12mo, 565 pp. $1.75

¶ After years of separation from his wife, the hero, during a complete suspension of memory and loss of identity, accidentally finds shelter in her home. This situation seems very simple, but the developments are far from simple, and form a story of complicated motives and experiences which holds the reader closely.

¶ An almost grown-up daughter, ignorant of the situation, heightens the tension of the plot, and furnishes her share of two charming stories of young love.

¶ That this third volume by Mr. De Morgan appears within less than a year and a half of his first, may arouse anxiety on the part of his admirers less he be overproducing. But before he publishes his first novel, he had several completely written, and several others carefully sketched out. So far from "Somehow Good" being diluted work, it is, in the unanimous opinion of the publishers' readers, an advance upon anything of Mr. De Morgan yet published.

Virginie

By

ERNEST OLDMEADOW

One of the quaintest and most charming romances that ever graced a season's fiction.

The exquisite picture of the girl on the cover makes you long to know her better. The series of spirited adventures through which she leads us, from the minute she is released, unconscious, from imprisonment in a cake of ice to the final startling dénouement, is calculated to make even the oldest novel-reader sit up in delightful astonishment.

Virginie the story is fully as charming as her portrait, a miniature of rare beauty which serves also as a frontispiece to the book.

The Magistrate's Own Case

By

BARON PALLE ROSENKRANZ

A story of crime and mystery whose utter ingenuity of plot rivals the work of the best modern writers of detective fiction.

The danger of relying too implicitly upon circumstantial evidence is the mainspring of the tale, the scenes of which are laid abroad. The author is a legal expert, and the book is especially noteworthy for the consummate art displayed in the handling of a remarkable case in its legal aspects. The story is one of fascinating interest and is certain to find numerous admirers.

FEBRUARY PUBLICATIONS

MR. THOMAS D. MURPHY'S

Beautifully Illustrated Book for Travel Lovers

ENGLISH HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS FROM A MOTOR CAR

With 16 full-page illustrations in colors, and 32 in duogravure, route maps, and an exhaustive index. 8vo. Decorative cover and wrapper. In a box, \$3.00. Bound in  $\frac{3}{4}$  levant morocco. In a box, \$7.00.

A delightful volume of travel, thoroughly covering the town and country roads of England which are available for motoring—and there are a few which are not; replete with charming and refreshing descriptions of landscapes which are picturesque, and landmarks which are always of interest. It contains much information of a practical nature as well as sprightly historical comment.

A distinct feature of the book is its illustrations, which not only represent the highest development of the engraver's art and mechanical perfection in their printing, but which in the case of the colored illustrations are reproductions from original paintings by prominent artists.

READY AT ONCE

Captain T. JENKINS HAINS'

BAHAMA BILL

By the author of "The Black Barque," etc.
Cloth decorative, with frontispiece in colors by H. R. REUTERDAHL. $1.50.

The scene of Captain Hains's new sea story is laid in the region of the Florida Keys. His hero, the giant mate of the wrecking sloop Sea-Horse, while not one to stir the emotions of gentle readers, will arouse interest and admiration in men who appreciate bravery and daring.

Captain Hains's descriptions of life at sea are vivid, absorbingly frank, and remarkably true. "Bahama Bill" ranks high as a stirring, realistic, unsoftened, and undiluted tale of the sea, chock full of engrossing interest.

Mr. GAMALIEL BRADFORD, JR.'S

MATTHEW PORTER

By the author of "The Private Tutor," etc.
Cloth decorative, with a frontispiece in colors by GRISWOLD TYNG. $1.50.

When a young man has birth, character, and strong ambition, it is safe to predict for him a brilliant career; and, when The Girl comes into his life, a romance out of the ordinary. Such a man is Matthew Porter, and the author has drawn him with fine power.

Effective glimpses of the social life of Boston form a contrast to the more serious purpose of the story; but, in "Matthew Porter," it is the conflict of personalities, the development of character, the human element which grips the attention and compels admiration.

READY FEBRUARY 15

Mr. ROBERT LEE DURHAM'S tremendously impressive novel

THE CALL OF THE SOUTH

"When Your Fear Cometh As Desolation And Your Destruction Cometh As A Whirlwind."

Cloth decorative. With six striking illustrations from drawings by HENRY ROTH. $1.50.

A very strong novel dealing with the race problem in this country. The danger to society from the increasing miscegenation of the black and white races is the principal theme, and the author has written an absorbing drama of life which appeals with apparent logic and of which the inevitable denouement comes as a final and convincing climax.

"A remarkably powerful, absorbing story. It left me gasping."—From a letter to the author by a well-known critic. "An intensely interesting and thoroughly restrained statement of the attitude of a large body of American citizens towards the negro question in the form of a novel and compelling romance."—From report of the publisher's Reader.

NOTES IN SEASON.

L. C. PAGE & Co. will publish shortly a new volume by Francis Miltoun, entitled "In the Land of Mosques and Minarets—Rambles in Algeria and Tunisia," for which Blanche McManus, who collaborated with the author in his previous books of travel, has supplied the illustrations.

HENRY HOLT & Co. will bring out on February 8 De Morgan's new novel, "Somehow Good," dealing with the complicated case of a man who, after years of separation from his wife, during a complete suspension of memory and loss of identity, accidentally finds shelter in her home. An almost grown-up daughter, ignorant of the situation, heightens the tension of the plot, and furnishes her share of two charming stories of young love.

A. C. MCCLURG & Co. will publish at once "The Art of Retouching Systematized," by Ida Lynch Hower, a manual of practical and methodical instructions, for the professional as well as the amateur photographer, in the art of retouching negatives. It has been prepared from the standpoint of over a quarter of a century of professional training on the part of the author, and will provide a much-desired system for all who wish to turn out good work.

THE J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY will publish shortly "Mercia Schuyler," by Grace Livingston Hill-Lutz, a well-known contributor to leading papers and religious publications, who comes from a family of writers. Her mother is a writer of some note; her aunt is the famous "Pansy," (Mrs. G. R. Alden;) and her cousin, Professor Raymond Alden, is a brilliant contributor to many periodicals, and the winner of a short-story prize contest conducted by a leading weekly magazine two years ago.

MOFFAT, YARD & COMPANY will publish immediately a brilliant novel by Annulet Andrews, entitled "The Wife of Narcissus." The period is to-day and the scene New York. Narcissus is a poet of passion. The intimate picture of the unconventional circle of poseurs of which the gifted Narcissus is the graceful centre constitutes one of the cleverest pieces of descriptive literature of recent years. In picturesque contrast stands the altogether adorable wife of the poet, a girl of simple beauty and wholesome sanity. The novel is said to be a faithful and informed study of a certain phase of literary and artistic life in New York, and exhibits workmanship and art of high order; nor is it less admirable in its "story interest."

CUPPLES & LEON COMPANY have made arrangements with the Authors and Newspapers Association whereby they become the exclusive selling agents for the Association, and will publish all the novels for which arrangements have been made for serial publication. The Association will continue to negotiate with authors for new manuscripts and arrange for serialization and advertising, while the Cupples & Leon Company will supply the trade with each work when published in book form. They already have on their list titles by C. N. and A. M. Williamson, Robert Barr, E. F. Benson, Eden Phillpotts, Ian Maclaren and others equally well known, and have in preparation novels by the Baroness Orczy, Bram Stoker, Arthur W. Marchmont, Le Queux, Rider Haggard and others.

The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk **, and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); P. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Adventures with Indians; by Philip V. Mighels, W. O. Stoddard, Major G. B. Davis, Frances McElrath and others. N. Y., Harper, 1908. c. 11+234 p. il. D. (Harper's young people ser.) cl., 60 c.

Not only stirring tales of ambush, battle and adventure are embraced in this volume, but also suggestive glimpses of Indian life and character, and of the varied phases of relations between white men and red, as the former have pushed onward to complete the conquest of the continent. While the book is fiction for the most part, certain of the stories are largely fact and others are founded on actual incidents.

The author began life in Texas as a cowboy; his experiences were novel and exciting; how he came to preach the gospel and finally became a Baptist concludes his autobiography.

Another three weeks; not by El-n-r Gl-n. N. Y., Life Publishing Co., 1908. c. 5-63 p. D. pap., 25 c.

A burlesque of Elinor Glyn's "Three weeks."

Ashleman, Lorley Ada. Dramatic French reader: twelve historical French plays designed for high school use; resumé of French grammar required in first year high school course. Chic., A. Flanagan Co., [1908.] c. '07. 299 p. front. D. cl., 75 c.

The book is made in three sections: the first containing merely the text of the plays; the second the grammatical exercises based upon them, and the third the vocabulary. This plan has been adopted for two reasons: it has been thought that the interest of the student, that valuable ally, would thus be more strongly appealed to; also that without the distraction of omnipresent notes greater concentration of attention would be possible. The material used has been taken from Michelet, Guizot, Taine and other historians, and from Molière, Corneille, Beaumarchais, Rouget de Lisle, and Alphonse Daudet. Author is professor in the University of Chicago.

Bacon, Mrs. Josephine Dodge Daskam. Ten to seventeen: a boarding-school diary. N.

Y., Harper, 1908. c. '03-'08. 261 p. il. D. cl., †$1.50.

This is a diary of girls in boarding school during those years when the world is made up chiefly of two kinds of excitement: sentiment and scrapes. Those who are concerned with the story are all healthy, charming children—Roberta, who writes the "events," "Ben," whose cleverness inspires it, and Constantia, who prefixes to each event a kind of "poem" truly remarkable. The story involves grown-ups and their various affairs, seen from the genuine schoolgirl point of view, and expressed in the exact language of the age.

Baldwin, Ja. Another fairy reader. N. Y., American Book Co., [1908.] c. '07. 3-192 p. il. D. (Eclectic readings.) cl., 35 c.

This is a little higher in grade than its companion volume, "The second fairy reader," and like it, is designed for use as a supplementary reader in middle and lower primary classes. As in the preceding volumes of the series, the tales are from various sources and represent the fairy lore of various peoples and countries.

- Calvert, Albert F.: Leon, Burgos and Salamanca: a historical and descriptive account; with 462 illustrations. N. Y., John Lane Co., (The Bodley Head,) 1908. 25+151+462 p. D. (Spanish ser.; ed. by Albert F. Calvert.) cl., *$1.25 net.
In the plan of this book, as in the other volumes of the series, the text has been made subordinate to and explanatory of the illustrations. The author's intention is to provide a manual for those interested in architecture and archaeology. Some of the subjects dealt with: The Kingdom of Leon; San Isidoro; The Cathedral; San Marcos; The Casa Guzman; The Capital of Castile; The Story of Salamanca; The Old Cathedral; The New Cathedral; The University.
- Calvert, Albert F.; and Hartley, C. Gasquoine. Velasquez: an account of his life and works; with 136 reproductions from his most celebrated pictures. N. Y., John Lane Co., (The Bodley Head,) 1908. 18+218 p. D. (Spanish ser.; ed. by Albert F. Calvert.) cl., *$1.25 net.
According to the preface: "The object of this little book is to induce the reader to turn to the pictures of Velasquez, the plates of many of which are here reproduced. It is not an exhaustive treatise on the painter's work, nor a full biographical essay, still less is it a handbook to explain his pictures. It is just an invitation, as it were, to look more carefully at the pictures themselves."

Dr. Christian some years ago began his investigation of the history of the form of baptism, and he is more thoroughly convinced than ever that the apostolic act of baptism was dipping and that such continued the form for many ages after Christ. This work is written in no controversial spirit, but is an effort to truthfully present the facts. It is the first book in the English language which exclusively treats of baptism in art. The pictures have been gathered from the Catacombs and churches, sarcophagi and baptisteries, mosaics and ivories of the world. Bibliography (8¼ p.). Author, pastor Second Baptist Church, Little Rock, Ark.

Fairlie, J.: Archibald. Essays in municipal administration. N. Y., Macmillan, 1908. c. 7+374 p. O. cl., **$2.50 net.

Author is professor of administrative law in the University of Michigan. Most of the present essays have been previously published in various magazines and journals or delivered before several societies. In arranging the essays an attempt has been made to group those most closely related. In the first group are those relating to problems of organization and the legal relation of cities to the state. In the second group are those dealing with municipal functions and activities. The third group presents some observations on municipal government in Europe made during a visit in the year 1906. The last essay, "Instruction in municipal government," is an independent essay, timely, instructive and comprehensive.

Elected Vice-president in 1848, and succeeding to the Executive office upon death of Taylor in 1850, Millard Fillmore had to deal with some of the greatest problems that had yet confronted the country. This volume gives the suppressed portion of Fillmore's message to Congress in 1852, giving his solution of the Slavery Problem. The executors of his son's estate destroyed Fillmore's carefully preserved correspondence. The Buffalo Historical Society hopes to partly make good this loss.

Fletcher, Horace. Optimism, a real remedy; with a foreword by W: Dana Orcutt. Chic., A. C. McClurg & Co., 1908. c. 5-79 p. por. nar. D. hf. cl., 75 c., boxed.

Noll, Arthur Howard. General Kirby-Smith. Sewanee, Tenn., University Press, [1908.] c. '07. 6+293 p. por. O. cl., $1.50.

The purpose is to set forth the life of General Kirby-Smith more as a man than as a military leader; and with that object in view, letters written by him at West Point, on the battlefields of the war with Mexico, on the Southwestern frontier, in Virginia while recruiting the armies of the Confederacy and while recovering from the wound received at Manassas, and from Mexico and Cuba after the fall of the Confederacy, have been freely drawn upon.

Norris, Mary Harriott. The veil: a fantasy. Bost., Richard G. Badger, 1907, [1908.] c. 309 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The author of "The gray house of the quarries" has again written a story of mystery and ghostly happenings. Three separate tenants take three houses and barns belonging to an impoverished New York State gentleman. Their experiences are weird and they all see strange sights and hear strange sounds before all is happily explained.

Norton, Roy. The vanishing fleets. N. Y., Appleton, 1908. c. 10+3-350 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

Ingenuous forecast of the possibilities of electrical science, describing the invention of an airship, called a radioplane, constructed of intensely radioactive metal capable of being propelled through the air at incredible speed, and when charged with magnetic currents able to catch up and transport the most powerful warship. Story recounts the events in the United States preceding the outbreak of war with Japan; the attack on Japanese and British fleets by a squadron of these radioplanes, the total disappearance of both fleets and the consummation of a world peace as the result of these invincible mechanical devices.

Oliver, Edwin Austin. Holiday tales. Yonkers, N. Y., Yonkers Publishing Co., [1908.] 5-123 p. D. cl., 75 c., boxed.

Ten short stories and six little poems for young people.

Omar Khayyâm. Edward Fitzgerald's Rubâiyât of Omar Khayyâm with a Persian text, a transliteration and a close prose and verse translation, by Eben Francis Thompson. Worcester, Mass., Commonwealth Press, [priv., print.] 1907, [1908.] c. 13+148 p. pors. 8°, cl., $15; hf. bds., $5.

Pais, Ettore. Ancient Italy: historical and geographical investigations in central Italy, Magna Græcia, Sicily, and Sardinia; tr. from the Italian by C. Densmore Curtis. Chic., University of Chicago Press, 1908. c. '07. 14+441 p. il. pls. map, O. cl., $5 net.

The papers incorporated in the present volume were printed in the proceedings of various Italian societies or in separate pamphlets for private circulation, in either case they came before a very limited public. The subjects are all suggested by the author's researches in preparing his "History of Magna Græcia and Sicily" and his "History of Rome." The translator has had the advantage of close consultation with the author.

Payne, Philip. The mills of man: a novel. N. Y. and Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., 1903. [1908.] c. 7-476 p. D. (Popular copyright fiction.) cl., 75 c.

Sketch of the development of highways and railroads in the Southern States previous to the Civil War, with a discussion of the influence which transportation and traffic had upon the early economic and social development of that region.

Pidgin, C. Felton. Theodosia, the first gentlewoman of her time: the story of her life, and a history of persons and events connected therewith. Bost., C. M. Clark Publishing Co., 1907, [1908.] c. 15+484 p. il. pors. O. (Great triumvirate: Jefferson, Hamilton, Aaron Burr.) cl., $2.50 net; Library ed., $3 net.

The author of "Blennerhassett" tells the story of Aaron Burr's brilliant and beautiful daughter Mrs.

Theodosia Burr Alston. For nearly a hundred years the actual fate of this young woman has been shrouded in mystery. Many stories have been related claiming to describe the manner of her death, but the present solution seems to be the true one. The author has collected many papers and documents verifying it. This is the first volume in an important historical work to comprise ten volumes, entitled "The great triumvirate: Jefferson—Hamilton—Aaron Burr." Each volume will be complete in itself; all will be written by C. F. Pidgin. Authorities and references (7 p.). Bibliography (7 p.). Personal and topical index.

Pierson, Arthur Tappan, D.D. The making of a sermon. [2d ed., rev. and enl.] N. Y., Gospel Publishing House, 1908. c. '07. 23+312 p. D. cl., $1.50 net.

Opens with a suggestive chapter on the art of Bible study; after this comes a series of studies in texts and themes, in which a sufficient variety of analysis is given to cover every form of Scripture presentation. By the author of "The life of George Muller," "The modern mission century," etc.

Pitman, Sir I. Pitman's international mercantile letters: a collection of actual letters, arranged in groups, illustrating modern mercantile methods, and forming models for the foreign correspondent: English-German. N. Y., Isaac Pitman & Sons, [1908.] 250+32 p. D. cl., 85 c.

Schilling, J. Schilling's Don Basilio: a practical guide to Spanish conversation and correspondence; tr. and ed. by F. Zagel. N. Y., Henry Holt & Co., 1907, [1908.] 7+156 p. D. cl., $1 net.

An original work written in dialogue form in an easy colloquial style. Don Basilio is the "hero" of this narrative. The student is introduced to him in his bedroom making his toilet with the aid of his valet. He then accompanies him through his day, to breakfast, dinner, on visits, etc. In this way a wide range of subjects is introduced to the reader—the toilet, the table, business arrangements, intercourse with friends, greetings and leave-takings, etc., the whole being illustrated with copious notes and references to Schilling's "Spanish Grammar," to which it is a companion Reading-book.

Sellery, G. Clarke. Lincoln's suspension of habeas corpus as viewed by Congress. Madison, Wis., [University of Wisconsin,] 1907, [1908.] 213-286 p. O. (University of Wisconsin bulletin, History ser.) pap., 35 c. Author is assistant professor of history, University of Wisconsin.

Stimson, Frederic Jesup. ["J. S. of Dale," pseud.] The American constitution: the national powers, the rights of the states, the liberties of the people; Lowell Institute lectures, delivered at Boston, October-November, 1907. N. Y., Scribner, 1908. c. 259 p. diagr., D. cl., **$1.25 net.

Author is professor of comparative legislation, Harvard University, and author of "American constitutional law," etc. These eight lectures discuss: The meaning of the constitution; Constitutional rights peculiar to English and American freemen; English liberty and the freedom of labor; Development of these rights—their infringement by kings and their re-establishment by the people; The expression of those liberties in our federal constitution: Division of powers between legislative, executive and judicial—and between the federal government and the states; Changes in the constitution now proposed; Interstate commerce, the control of trusts, and the regulating of corporations.

Studies in philology; published under the direction of the Philological Club of the University of North Carolina; C. Alphonso Smith, editor; v. 2, Studies in the syntax of the King James version, by Ja. Moses Grainger. Chapel Hill, N. C., University of North Carolina Press, 1907, [1908.] 60 p. O. pap. (Address Univ. for price.)

Paper presented to the Faculty of the University of North Carolina as a partial requirement for the degree of Master of Arts.

Taber, C. Austin Mendell. The cause of geologic periods. Bost., George H. Ellis Co., 1907, [1908.] c. 68 p. O. cl., 75 c.

This essay contains a summary of author's former publications, the earliest dating as far back as 1881.

Tennyson, Alfred, Lord. The works of Alfred, Lord Tennyson; annotated by Alfred Lord Tennyson; ed. by Hallam, Lord Tennyson. Eversley ed. In 6 v. v. 1. N. Y., Macmillan, 1908. c. 11+767 p. por. 12°, cl., **$1.50 net.

Terhune, Albert Payson. The new mayor; founded upon G. Broadhurst's successful play, "The man of the hour"; under the direction of W. A. Brady and Jos. R. Grimmer. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie Publishing Co., 1907, [1908.] c. 5-232 p. il. D. cl., 50 c.; pap., 25 c.

A strong story of politics, love and graft based upon a play that has had a run of two years in New York; illustrated by photographs of scenes from the play.

Tompkins, Juliet Wilbor. Dr. Ellen. N. Y., Baker & Taylor Co., [1908.] c. 280 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

"Dr. Ellen" left a widow, studied medicine and, when in the midst of a brilliant medical career, left it to take a sister threatened with tuberculosis to the Sierras. Here she again began practice. Her sister chafed at living among the wild people of the West, the doctor never explained her disease, and the hero coming upon the scene encouraged the girl in her mutiny. A rival doctor complicated the plot, the hero learned to appreciate. "Dr. Ellen," and the sister also saw all things end brightly.

Trenholme, Norman Maclaren. A syllabus for the history of western Europe, with references and review questions, (based on "Robinson's Introduction to the history of western Europe.") In 2 pts. pt. 1, The middle ages; pt. 2, The modern age. Bost., Ginn, [1908.] c. '07. 7+80; 7+94 p. D. cl., ea., 40 c.

While it does not follow Professor Robinson's book slavishly, the syllabus has a distinct advantage in being based for the most part upon his most serviceable account of the history of mediæval and modern times. The syllabus was originally prepared for the use of the instructors and students in the introductory course in European history (of which the author is professor) in the University of Missouri. A select list of reference books with prices (2 p.).

Tschaikowsky, Peter Iljitch. Eugene Onégin: lyric scenes in three acts, after the Russian of Alex Sergeyvitch Pushkin; German translation by A. Bernhard; English version by H. Grafton Chapman; music by Tchaikowsky. Vocal score complete. N. Y., G. Schirmer, [1908.] c. '07. 6+276 p. 4°, (Schirmer's collection of operas.) cl., $3.50; pap., $2.50.

Urussov, Prince Serge Dmitriyevich. Memoirs of a Russian governor, Prince Serge Dmitriyevich Urussov; tr. from the Russian and ed. by Herman Rosenthal. Authorized ed. N. Y., Harper, 1908. c. 7+181 p. por. O. cl., **$1.50 net.

The author is a prince of an ancient family, a member of the first Duma and a courageous patriot. He reveals the methods of the governors, the schemes of the police department, the intrigues and corruptions that are sapping the Slavonic government. The author is a believer in a constitutional monarchy. As governor of Bessarabia shortly after the terrible massacre of Kishinev he inexorably traced the responsibility for that crime to the government he served, and in so doing unearthed many secrets.

Voorhees, E. Burnett. Fertilizers: the source, character and composition of natural, home-made and manufactured fertilizers, and suggestions as to their use for different crops and conditions. 10th ed. N. Y., Macmillan, 1908. c. 14+335 p. 12°, cl., **$1.25 net.

Wheeler, H., D.D. History and exposition of the twenty-five Articles of religion of the Methodist Episcopal church. N. Y., Eaton & Mains, [1908.] c. 13+392 p. O. cl., $2 net.

Discussion of the need of a formulated doctrine and a characterization of "confessions" from that of Augsburg to the Methodist Episcopal Articles of Religion introduces a comparison of Wesley's Twenty-five Articles with the Thirty-nine Articles of the Church of England. Following this with a careful statement of the aim and origin of each article, the author gives a scriptural exposition of each phrase. The book is a serviceable aid to an understanding of the faith as formulated by the Methodist Episcopal church. Index.

Williams, Hugh Noel. A princess of intrigue, Anne Geneviève de Bourbon, Duchesse de Longueville, and her times. N. Y., Putnam, 1908. 2 v., 12+344; 10+345-745 p. il. pors. pls. O. cl., $6.50 net, boxed.

The Duchesse de Longueville lived through many years of the reign of Louis XIII. and Louis XIV.; she was a royal princess and became deeply involved in the numerous political intrigues of her times, especially against Cardinal Mazarin; her personal intrigues were numerous, her own life and personality with her adventures forming the chief subject of a work rich in gossip of a period not noted for its morality. By the author of "Five fair sisters," "Madame Récamier and her friends," etc.

Wingate, General G. Wood. Why should boys be taught to shoot? [Bost., Sub-Target Gun Co., 1908.] c. '07. 14 p. T. pap. (Address pubs. for price.)

This concern is the outgrowth of a little store on Hanover Street started when he was nineteen years old by Eben D. Jordan, a native of Danville, Me. In 1851, in partnership with Benjamin L. Marsh, the present business was launched.

DENVER, COLO.—Percival C. Mills, bookseller, at 415 Sixteenth Street, is retiring from business.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Commercial Engraving Company has consolidated with the Filmer Engraving Company, of 130 West Seventeenth Street, who assume all assets and liabilities, and will continue the business of both firms under the corporate name of The Filmer Engraving Company, at 88-90 Walker Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Isaac Mendoza Book Company, incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, has taken over the book business heretofore conducted by Isaac Mendoza at 17 Ann Street, with a capital stock of $5000, fully paid, and will continue the purchase and sale of new and second-hand books at the same address. The officers of the corporation are Isaac Mendoza, president; T. J. Masterson, vice-president, and W. H. Ostrander, secretary. Mr. Mendoza started this business on October 8, 1894, excellently equipped with experience in the second-hand book business though with a very modest cash capital. Born in New York City in 1864, he began his career as a bookseller at the age of eighteen in the employ of M. J. Hynes, at 229 Broadway, who also conducted another store at 19 Ann Street, which, after only three months' training, was put in charge of Mendoza. When the Ann Street establishment was discontinued in 1883, Mendoza returned to the Broadway store. In May, 1894, Mr. Hynes removed to No. 3 Beekman Street, where the business was continued until after Mr. Hynes' death, on November 15, 1887, being sold by the estate, at auction, on April 15, 1888. Out of the remains of the Hynes business the firm of Bowers & Loy was started in May, 1888, at 111 Nassau Street. Both members of the firm were in the employ of Hynes, and they induced their fellow clerk, Mendoza, to continue with them. He accepted their offer and remained with them until 1894, when, as stated above, he opened up business for himself. Mr. Mendoza by hard and honest work succeeded in building up a large business, gradually eliminating the junk and strengthening his stock along the lines of books that appeal to collectors and librarians.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

FEBRUARY 1, 1908.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SERVICE OF "THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY."

As stated in our "Annual Summary Number," THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY recorded in 1907 9620 titles, as against 7139 in 1906. The two volumes of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for 1907 covered 4516 pages, of which over 2000 pages were required for our system of bibliographical record, costing for compilation and manufacturing over $10,000 per year, or about one dollar per recorded title for the several entries, which number from five to ten for each title in different forms or at different times throughout the year.

With the increase of the bibliographical output, which will this year exceed 10,000 titles, and increase possibly by leaps and bounds, it is necessary to revise a bibliographical system worked out when the production was about half what it is now, and which is becoming more or less cumbersome as well as costly in its present shape. To accomplish this purpose without decreasing the value of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY as the permanent national record of American book production, we have decided to drop the feature of the Order List, arranged by publishers, which is not used by the American booktrade as is this feature of the German booktrade journal—the Börsenblatt—from which the plan was adapted. It was supposed that the trade might find it worth while to paste up this list from extra copies of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY as their order list to publishers; but the list seems to be comparatively little used in this way, or for like purposes, and it increases the number of pages over which the bookseller has to glance from week to week. With the same purpose of condensation in view, we shall also make a change in our Weekly Record, confining this annotated list to the books of chief current interest and large trade importance, while accomplishing the aim of completeness, so far as completeness is possible in this country of many books from scattered sources, by including all titles available to us in our monthly systematized Reference List, giving the book by author, title, subject, and series in one alphabet. In this way the bookseller will find that it requires less time to go over the Weekly Record for information of the great body of books which he handles, while he will find, as before, in the Monthly Reference List not only these titles entered in the several ways indicated, but all other titles available to us, for which there is from time to time chance inquiry. Law, medical, U. S. Government, and other official titles should accordingly be sought in the monthly and not in the weekly list. Every retail bookseller—principal or assistant—should make it his first business of the week to run his eye carefully over the titles and annotations in the Weekly Record, so that he may have in mind and at his tongue's end for the benefit of his customer and himself, the leading facts about the books of the week, and thus it should be more possible for him to do when the leading books are thus brought to the fore in bibliographical perspective.

Our system of bibliographical record has improved steadily from year to year, especially in recent years, and we challenge comparison for it alike as to quantity, quality and promptness of issue with any other bibliographical record in this or any foreign country. We particularly point out that the annual list for 1907, 513 pages, was issued promptly to all subscribers to THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, in its "Annual Summary Number," within the month of January, and we submit that few, if any, trade journals in this country or elsewhere give so large an amount of trade record on so careful and elaborate a system as does THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY at its moderate subscription price of $4.

THE ODD VOLUMES CLUB.

THE second meeting of the Odd Volumes club, organized ten years ago, at the Lotus Club, by the commercial travellers of the booktrade, was held on January 28 at the Hotel Avelon, New York City, the meeting being under the direction of Volumes One, Three and Five. The object of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of enlarging the membership of The Odd Volumes, which has recently been incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, and to prepare for active work. It is the intention of the organizers to include in the membership of the club authors, journalists, artists and others interested in the making of books as well as those who sell books. Its object is the cultivation of social relations among its members, and while there will be an initiation fee there will be no dues, and the price of the dinners to which each "book" will be invited will be restricted to one dollar the plate. There will be no officers, a chairman being selected at each gathering. Three volumes will form a quorum, so that a meeting may be called in any section of the country wherever three may make it possible to come together.

THE HOSPITAL BOOK AND NEWSPAPER SOCIETY.

THE HOSPITAL BOOK AND NEWSPAPER SOCIETY, at 105 East Twenty-second Street, New York City, which receives reading matter and distributes it to hospitals and other public institutions, has issued its thirty-third annual report. The total amount of reading matter distributed from the office of the Society during the year ending September 30, 1907, is: Books, 6140; magazines, 30,911; weekly and illustrated papers, 42,256. From the society's boxes there were distributed 667 books, 6823 magazines, and 192,339 papers. Although obliged to pay for transportation, owing to the abolition of express passes, the Society was able to respond to most of the appeals, thanks to the generous donations of the preceding year, which started them with a balance of $282.69. Unfortunately, many of these donations were not repeated, causing at this winter's beginning a deficit of $84.56, which makes it necessary to raise about $375, in addition to the regular subscription, if last year's work is to be continued. The total amount expended was $2134.30. The report contains lists of subscriptions and donations, of institutions and individuals receiving donations of reading matter, also a list of the society's boxes and their location.

A NOTABLE COLLECTION OF BURNSIANA.

ACCORDING to the New York Sun, William R. Smith, superintendent of the National Botanical Garden in Washington, D. C., has what is considered to be the largest known collection of the works of Robert Burns—600 editions in all. Besides these he also has a large collection of biographies, critical reviews and commentaries, poems and addresses, all dealing with the immortal Scotsman. Recently the collection has been further enhanced by 200 works of comment and biography, gathered abroad by the agents of Andrew Carnegie, an intimate friend of Smith's.

Though the collection contains 600 editions of Burns's works, it is marred by one serious lack. It has no original of the very first edition, known as the Kilmarnock edition, because it was printed there in 1786. There were only 600 copies of this issue, and they have become so rare that a single copy now commands $1000, though Mr. Smith, had he started his collection when the book was printed, might have bought it for less than a shilling the volume. As it is, Mr. Smith for the present must content himself with a copy in facsimile.

OBITUARY NOTES.

DANIEL COLLAMORE HEATH, founder and president of the school book publishing firm of D. C. Heath & Company, died at his home in Newtonville, Mass., on the evening of January 28. Mr. Heath was born in Salem, Me., October 26, 1843, and was prepared for college at the Nichols Latin School in Lewiston, Me., and graduated at Amherst College in the class of '68. For the two years following the graduation he was principal of the High School in Southboro, Mass. Subsequently he spent two years in attendance at the Bangor Theological Seminary. He then devoted a year to travel abroad for the benefit of his health, and upon his return became supervisor of schools at Farmington, Me. After serving in that capacity for a year, Mr. Heath entered the book business, and in 1874 represented in Rochester, N. Y., the firm of Ginn Brothers. In 1875 Mr. Heath opened a branch house for the firm in New York City, where he remained for some months. In 1876 he was admitted to a partnership, the firm name then becoming Ginn & Heath. This relation continued until 1886, when Mr. Heath disposed of his interest and started in business on his own account, with absolute freedom to pursue his own policy in educational publishing. C. H. Ames became Mr. Heath's first partner in 1889, when the firm name was changed to D. C. Heath & Company; W. E. Pulsifer became a partner in 1892 and W. S. Smyth was admitted to partnership in 1893. In 1895 the firm became incorporated with Mr. Heath as president, Mr. Ames as vice-president, Mr. Pulsifer as treasurer, and Mr. Smyth as secretary. Mr. Heath opened his first office in two small rooms at 3 Tremont Place. In 1887 new and larger quarters were taken at 5 Somerset Street, opposite the Boston University, where the firm remained for seven and a half years, when the business was removed to the new steel frame building at 110-112 Boylston Street, adjoining the old Public Library and overlooking the Common. The firm began with a list of thirteen books and eleven pamphlets. To-day there are upwards of a thousand books on their list, each one of which has an influence and character of its own. Steadily the firm forged ahead until it conquered for itself a place in the very front rank of the school book publishing trade.

EVERETT WADDEY, president of the Everett Waddey Company, of Richmond, Va., one of the largest printing and stationery establishments in the South, died in that city on January 14. Mr. Waddey was born on March 25, 1853, in Thomasville, Ga. On the death of his father, in 1857, he was taken to Richmond by relatives. In 1868 he entered the printing office of Vannerson, Shepperson & Graves. In 1876 he took a position in the blank book and stationery business of George W. Gary. Later he was associated with J. T. Ellyson & Co., finally purchasing the interest of his retiring partners and beginning business on his own account in 1882. The business, which was later incorporated under the name of the Everett Waddey Company, developed rapidly, Mr. Waddey giving his personal supervision in every department. He was for nine years secretary of the United Typothetae of America, and for several years chairman of the executive committee of the National Typothetae.

ALBERT M. BUDDY, who had been an employee of the J. B. Lippincott Company for some thirty-seven years, died of pneumonia on January 25, after a brief illness. Mr. Buddy's sterling integrity, faithfulness and geniality won for him the highest esteem of his employers and associates, and his loss is deeply mourned by all.

EDWARD ALEXANDER MACDOWELL, America's foremost composer, died January 23 in New York City, after an illness of nearly three years. MacDowell was born in New York City, December 18, 1861. He studied music here, in France and in Germany. In 1896 he became professor of music at Columbia University, which position he resigned in 1904. About 130 compositions bear his name. Of these the piano sonatas "Tragica," "Eroica," "Norse" and "Keltic," the Indian suite for orchestra, the "Woodland Sketches," "New England Idyls" and "Sea Pieces" are perhaps the best known. A number of songs are second only to his work for piano and orchestra.

OUIDA, the novelist, in private life Mlle. Louise de la Ramé, died January 24, at Viareggio, near Florence, Italy. Ouida, (said to be her own childish mispronunciation of Louise,) according to the biographical reference books, was born at Bury St. Edmunds, Eng., in 1840. Her father it is thought was a Frenchman and her mother English. The latest guess as to her identity makes Ouida out an American—a sister of Colonel George Roy Gliddoth, who fought in the Confederate Army and died twenty years ago. According to Colonel Gliddoth's widow, who reached Florence too late to give aid to her supposed sister-in-law, Ouida left America at a tender age under the care of a woman who adopted her as a daughter. Her youth was spent in France, and at the age of twenty she went to London. In 1860 she contributed her first novel, "Granville de Vigne," to Colburn's New Monthly. It was reissued in book form, in 1863, under the title of "Held in Bondage." For upwards of thirty years her pen was active in producing novels, short stories and essays. Several of her novels were dramatized, the better-known among these being "Under Two Flags" and "Moths." Among her best-remembered writings are "Strathmore," "Chandos," "Tricotrin," "Folle Farine," "Two Little Wooden Shoes," "Friendship," "In Maremma," "Pascarel," "Puck," "Ariadne, the Story of a Dream," "A Dog of Flanders," "Toxin, an Altruist," "Wanda," "The Silver Christ," "Street Dust," "Bimbi," a story for children, and "Two Offenders," a volume of short stories. A collection of varied opinions on literary and other topics, entitled "Views and Opinions," appeared in 1895, and a similar volume, called "Critical Studies," in 1900. Ouida's work sold in large quantities, it having been estimated that she made from $250,000 to $300,000 from her writings. But she does not seem to have managed her affairs wisely, for a year ago stories of her poverty were circulated. The English government then granted her a pension of $750 and a fund was raised by her friends to aid her. The reports of Ouida's utter poverty were afterwards denied—it is certain that they were exaggerated. She was poor, but not actually suffering or in need, and she resented vehemently many of the ill-directed efforts made by strangers to aid her. Indeed, as her early life so her latter days were shrouded in mystery that has given opportunity for the wildest imaginative work on the part of her pseudo-biographers.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE February Riverside Bulletin contains a list of all the biography published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. There are more than 200 subjects, including practically all Americans of note and many famous foreigners. This bulletin contains some interesting portraits and is furnished with an index, so that it is well worth saving for future reference.

THE WISCONSIN LIBRARY COMMISSION, Madison, Wis., has undertaken to publish an "Index to Current Events, a cumulative guide to material in Newspapers," similar to the "Index to Dates" appended for some years to the Library Index published from this office. The "Index to Current Events" will be published quarterly, and for convenience of consultation will have Wisconsin happenings grouped under separate alphabetical arrangement. The subscription price is $3 the year.

THE SOCIETY AMERICANA, Boston, has issued a "proposal" to publish "An Historical Digest of the Provincial Press," to be compiled and edited under the direction of Lyman Horace Weeks, author of "Prominent Families of New York," etc., and Edwin M. Bacon, author of "Historic Pilgrimages in New England," etc. The proposed work will be a "collation of all items of personal and historic reference printed in the newspapers of the Provincial period from the appearance of The Present State of the New-English Affairs, 1689, Public Occurrences, 1690, and the first issue of The Boston News-Letter, 1704, ending with the close of the Revolution in 1783." If carried out on the lines proposed and as illustrated in the "Proposal," the work cannot fail to be of great value to historical students and scholars, since it will place within their reach, in compact form, matter of the first importance, which is nowhere else preserved, and which is to-day widely scattered and difficult of access. Portraits and facsimiles of some of the newspapers, title-pages, etc., will be given in each volume. The work will be in twenty volumes, each complete in itself, and will be limited only in sets of twenty volumes at $150 the set.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

BEGINNING this month the publishers of The Printing Art, at Cambridge, Mass., will bring out a new periodical—The Printing Art Sample Book. While The Printing Art as one of the leading exponents of typography, design and illustration, has given each month exhibits and standards of engravings, designs, types, inks, equipment and other details which enter into the construction of printed matter, there has never been any publication that dealt specifically with paper—the very foundation of the whole printing-press product. As the rulings of the post-office do not admit of reference in second-class matter to any paper by name or information as to who are the manufacturers, The Printing Art Sample Book will be issued as an independent publication not entered at second-class rates, and will consist of monthly displays and the latest information about the different classes of papers which are now being manufactured to meet the varied demands of periodical, book and commercial printing. The Sample Book will be made up of introductory pages giving particulars regarding various constructive features, especially with relation to papers. Its inserts will display cover and other designs, the text papers will show various classes of book work, writing and bond papers, will present suitable commercial forms and different grades of coated papers, tissues, and special materials for binding will all be attractively treated. The publication will therefore appeal not only to printers, but also to paper-makers, book binders, engravers, publishers, advertisers and all interested in printed matter.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

E. DARROW, the well-known bookseller of Rochester, N. Y., celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday on January 29—"Carnation Day." Long may the hale veteran live to roll up his birthdays to the hundred mark and beyond.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY have just ready a new novel by Louis Joseph Vance, entitled "The Black Bag," which is said to be even more exciting and clever than the author's earlier story, "The Brass Bowl." The book has a number of good illustrations by Thomas Fogarty.

MOFFAT, YARD & COMPANY will publish shortly "Four Plays for Children," by John Jay Chapman. These plays are written in blank verse of a most scholarly and poetical character, and can be acted by young children. The settings are simple, and the thought is clear and direct. Two of them, in fact, have already been acted with success.

G. SCHIRMER has published a timely work in Tchaikowsky's opera, "Eugene Onégin," which after having enthusiastically won its way into the hearts of his countrymen is to have an American performance on February 1 and 2 at Carnegie Hall, New York City. The libretto was constructed upon a story in verse of the same title by Pushkin, the Russian poet. The volume is one in Schirmer's Collection of Operas.

THE C. M. CLARK PUBLISHING COMPANY, Boston, will publish on February 10 a novel, entitled "Under the Flag of the Cross," by J. Hamilton Sedberry, a new Southern author. The story deals with the crisis of a great world-war a hundred years hence, in which the Caucasian and Mongolian races are in a bitter struggle for supremacy. The kidnapping by a dastardly English captain of the heroine and her restoration to freedom, interwoven with a dual romance, furnishes no end of adventures on land and sea.

THE HAWAIIAN GAZETTE CO., LTD., of Honolulu, has issued a folio entitled "Picturesque Honolulu," which consists of illustrated articles on the founders, the society, the native-born leaders, education, climate, art and artists, literature and authors, public and private buildings, clubs, parks, (under which comes Kapiolani Park, which occupies one of the most beautiful sites in the world,) the food supply, historical landmarks, sports, etc., of Honolulu, with much statistical information of the island. Numerous half-tone cuts illustrate the beauties of this tropical spot in the mid-Pacific.

JOHN LANE COMPANY announce for publication in the spring a book by Caroline Corner, entitled "Ceylon—the Paradise of Adam." This is an intimate picture of the native life of Ceylon told by a traveller who has spent seven years in the country, and has made a thorough study of local conditions. Such characteristic customs and ceremonies as the "yakkadura," or devil dance; the "stromstrom," or Portuguese-Ceylon dance; the "fandango" and "strombello" two better-known dances; the "doladima," or thanksgiving ceremony; the "perehera," the annual festival of the Sinhalese; the "jeewama," a very exclusive rite; and the local form of celebrating nuptials, are described with great particularity, but in a fresh and readable narrative. The book carries an unusual series of illustrations from photographs.

DUFFIELD & Co. have just ready a volume entitled "Women and Other Women," by Hildegard Hawthorne, entertaining discussions of literary women, their work and the characters they have created. Miss Hawthorne presents her subject attractively, and her views show a keen appreciation of feminine traits. They will publish on the 15th inst. a timely book in "Plans for a National Theatre," by William Archer and Granville Barker, who present a practicable scheme for an endowed theatre in this country that will provide comparatively inexpensive entertainments and yet never present any but plays of a high order; also, a new volume in the Shakespeare Classics—"Brooke's Poem of 'Romeo and Juliet,'" the original of Shakespeare's play of the same name, edited by P. A. Daniel, and modernized and re-edited by J. J. Munro.

HENRY HOLT & Co. will publish at once a book entitled "Words and Sentences," by Alfred M. Hitchcock, which will deal in a simple way with the essentials of diction, and with so much of English grammar as has a bearing on composition. The book is intended for secondary schools. One useful feature is a set of instructions for correcting proof from the printers. They will also publish shortly "German Composition," by Professor Paul R. Pope, of Cornell, which treats of a trip to Germany, German tales and legends, and German life and customs; also, "The Vicar of Sessenheim," which contains the charming story of Frederika Brion as told by Goethe in his "Dichtung und Wahrheit," extracted in the original German and edited for schools and colleges by Professor A. B. Nichols, who has also included some poems by Goethe bearing on the episode.

WILLIAM J. LOCKE, author of "The Beloved Vagabond," etc., is at present in Algiers, where he has gone for a change of scene and to be free to complete the novel upon which he is now at work. Mr. Locke, who for many years has been Secretary of the Royal Institute of British Architects, has just resigned from that position and wound up his duties there prior to his departure for Africa. He found it necessary to take this step owing to the increased pressure of his literary work. The new novel will be brought out serially before its publication in book form in the spring by the John Lane Company simultaneously with its publication in England. Owing to the growing interest in Mr. Locke's books, of which he now has ten to his credit, the John Lane Company have in preparation a special uniform edition in ten volumes to be issued this spring.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have just ready a volume of considerable interest entitled "The Elimination of the Tramp," by Edmond Kelly, a well-known member of the Bar, whose practical recommendations for dealing with the tramp problem, based on a system that has actually proved effectual in Holland, Belgium and Switzerland, are approved in prefaces written for his book by such men as the Commissioner of Charities in New York City, the president of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, and the president of the Charity Society and Sage Fund Trustees. They will publish later in the month a work on "Climate—considered especially in relation to Man," by Professor Robert DeCourcy Ward, of Harvard, which will cover a wholly different field from that included in the meteorological text-books, handling the broad questions of the subject to meet the needs of the teacher and student as well as furnishing interesting and useful information to the general reader; also, a new edition of John Galsworthy's "Island Pharisces," which has been re-written by the author.

JOHN W. LUCE & Co. will publish on the 20th inst. a translation of Fogazzaro's novel, "The Politician," which, though its setting is the political atmosphere of Rome, deals rather with the struggles of love than of politics; also, "The Philosophy of Friedrich Nietzsche," by Henry L. Mencken, who addresses himself to the general reader rather than to the specialist in philosophy. They will also publish shortly "Cupid's Pack of Cards," a clever little novelty book by Walter Pultitzer, suitable for a Valentine gift. The fifty-two cards of the pack, in suits and the joker, are reproduced in color, together with groups of chips ornamenting the pages here and there. Mr. Pultitzer has used these pages as a background and an inspiration for Cupid's thoughts in the form of an original epigram or proverb, taking Hearts for reflections of love; Diamonds for engagements, marriages, etc.; Spades for putting away love and excavating divorces, and Clubs for random knocks at humanity in general. Preceding each suit is an appropriate illustration, and other hints as to how to play the game of love are happily introduced. The binding is in imitation of a rosewood card case with a Jack of Hearts bearing the title of the book for a label.

THE HAYES LITHOGRAPHING COMPANY, of Buffalo, N. Y., have ready for the trade a line of lithographed presentation and juvenile color books, new and improved in style and quality. Among these for adults are the Golden Hymn Series, (6 $\frac{7}{8}$  x 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ ), containing eighteen titles of such favorites as "Rock of Ages," "He Leadeth Me," "Abide With Me," and others equally popular; the Brilliant Series, six new titles of selections from Shakespeare, Longfellow, Whittier, Phillips Brooks, Eugene Field and Whitcomb Riley; also, the Garland Series, twelve new collections of verse and sentiment in prose and appropriate for any occasion, specially suited for presentation at school and graduation exercises, birthdays, Easter gifts and Sunday-school rewards. These booklets are artistically lithographed on fine coated paper with six pages in full colors, the remainder of the books being lithographed in colors and gold. For young people they have the Holly Wreath, Wonderland, Mother Goose and Golden Reader Series, twenty-four titles in all, including among others "The Night Before Christmas," "Peter Rabbit," "The Tale of Cock Robin," "Wee Folks' Reader," etc., etc. Each book contains colored plates by well-known artists and many black and white illustrations, the covers being lithographed in full colors and gold. The selling agents in this country are The Stitt & Heineberg Co., 150 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No reduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplayed advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no account must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash.]

Write your wants plainly, and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay" book-sellers should take the usual precautions, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Hayes Lithographing Company

Publishing Department

The Hayes Lithographing Company, of Buffalo, for a number of years the originators, developers and perfecters in lithography of many of the best-known series of popular Presentation and Juvenile Color Books, announce that they have now ready complete samples of seven entirely new series, comprising many different titles, each of which has the distinction of artistic and literary individuality, a merit often lacking in low cost color books.

The color work, for which The Hayes Lithographing Company is noted, is brought to still higher perfection in these new lines, and they request from the buyers, everywhere, a careful inspection of the samples, confident that the same will appeal to them favorably.

Catalog and samples will be furnished by

The Stitt & Heineberg Co., 156 Fifth Ave., New York, who are the sole selling agents in the United States.

"The Travellers' Number"

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY

THE new special "Travellers' Number" of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, will be issued under date of February 29th. Its principal object is the exploitation of Competitive Lines in the interest of both publisher and buyer. This field has not heretofore been adequately covered in trade journalism, and our purpose is to make this number one of commanding importance to the trade.

Among special features it will contain the "first news" of each house concerning its line for 1908, with the names of their travellers; a list of Department Stores handling books with name of the "buyer" in each; a reference list of business changes among retail booksellers during the past year; portraits of some veterans among the commercial travellers, etc.

Sufficient advertising support having already been pledged, no increase in schedule rates will be made. Publishers of Competitive Reprints, Copyright Rebinds, Popular Classics, Standard Sets and Series, Rag and Toy Books, Christmas Cards and Calendars, Bibles and Prayer Books, Dictionaries, Technical Hand-Books, etc., will find in "The Travellers' Number" an unusual opportunity for profitable advertising, as it will be extra-circulated to reach every possible buyer of competitive lines throughout the country. Advertising "copy" should be in by February 12th.

ISSUED FROM

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY OFFICE

The Publishers' Weekly

Recognized as the representative of the publishing and bookselling interests in the United States. Contains full weekly record of American publications, with monthly indexes, cumulated quarterly, news of interest concerning the book trade, lists of "Book Wanted," (an advertising feature which each subscriber can use without charge to the extent of 100 lines per year,) etc., etc. Subscription, $4.00 a year; to foreign countries, $5.00 a year.

The American Catalog, 1900-1905

Vol. I contains a five-year cumulation, Jan. 1, 1900-Jan. 1, 1905, giving in one alphabet, by author, title and subject, information of the books issued during the years covered by this period. It also contains a directory of over 3800 publishers, with street addresses. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50.

Vol. II or Supplementary volume gives the full-title entries with annotations printed in the Weekly Record of The Publishers' Weekly, cumulated into an alphabet for each year, i.e., into five alphabets 1900, 01, 02, 03, 04. This is planned to answer the demand of such libraries, bookdealers, and others as want the full material of The Publishers' Weekly bibliographical system in available shape. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50. The set of two, $15.

Of the previous series of THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE, quarto size, the earlier volumes are out of print. We have remaining a few copies of the volumes 1890-95 and 1895-1900, bound in half morocco, $15.00 each.

The Annual American Catalog 1907

Containing in one alphabet a record of all books published during 1905-06-07; under author, title, subject and series entries; also under author's name an alphabetical list of the entries of 1907 only with descriptive annotations from The Publishers' Weekly, etc. 8vo. Ready shortly.

The Publishers' Trade List Annual

Contains the latest catalogues of upward of 200 American publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names, with smaller lists, fully indexed, at the end of the volume, indispensable to every one who has any interest in the sale or purchase of books. Large 8vo, cloth, $2.00.

Index to the Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1902, out of print.

The Supplementary Index, 1903-1904, 500 pages, 8vo, cloth, with thumb index, $3.00. The alphabet in this volume is supplementary to the original Index of 1902.

The American Educational List

Contains a price-list of the text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject. (Published annually.) 8vo, leatherette, 50 cents.

The Library Journal

Chiefly devoted to library economy and bibliography. Established in 1876. Published monthly. Subscription $4.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 35 cents. Price to Europe or other countries in the Union, 16s. a year; single numbers, 1s. 6d.

The Annual Library Index

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc., Bibliographies, Necrology and Index to Dates of Principal Events.
